Shelton, Lewis David Wilson	Contract 271	271	T10N R7W	1881	Dem USDS SES USDMS	Jon Purnell, NOC LSAW Blog 2015 -When the research packet arrived, I was glad to see that I'd be retracing the work of U.S. Deputy Surveyor Lewis D. W. Shelton. Experience had shown that Shelton's field notes would allow us to follow precisely in his footsteps in the field; his work was so good, at times it seemed as though he was a Jon Purnell, NOC LSAW Blog 2015 -But not all GLO surveyors were as conscientious as Shelton, and I came to dread having to retrace the work of some. What makes Shelton all the more remarkable is how, despite all the difficulties presented by rough terrain, remote and inaccessible work sites, inclement weather, a largely unskilled labor force, meager remuneration, and the limitations of nineteenth century technology, he was nevertheless able to produce a quality product.

Gardner in 1853	1853	Clerk USDS	Jerry Olson, 2015, Clark County -One of the best Contract Deputy Surveyors - never found him stubbing, consistent 20 ft. radius search areas. -scribed the bts, didn't hesitate to choose large firs -often had errors in dist and dir to bts, many times getting them mixed up, consistent with the axeman memorizing the details for later recall. His search areas are so small, that you can stand in the likely spot and pick which trees he had used, and then figure out the geometrv.
